Sunday, January 19, 2025 / Second Sunday in Ordinary Time/ John 2 1-11

Friends, in today's Gospel, we read about the wedding at Cana. Jesus' mother is the first to speak, as John tells the story: "They have no wine." On the surface level, she is indeed commenting on a social disaster, running out of wine at a party, and she is asking Jesus to do something to make things better.

But let's go deeper. Wine, in the Scriptures, is a symbol of the exuberance and intoxication of the divine life. When God is in us, we are lifted up, rendered joyful, transfigured. Therefore, when Mary says, "They have no wine," she is speaking of all of Israel and indeed all of the human race. They have run out of the exuberance and joyfulness that comes from union with God.

And this is precisely why Jesus calls her "woman." We can be easily misled into thinking that he was being curt or disrespectful. But he was addressing her with the title of Eve, the mother of all the living. Mary is the representative here of suffering humanity, complaining to God that the joy of life has run out.

If you think of St/Pancras International or New York Grand Central you imagine long romantic journeys. You know they are special places promising excitement and adventure. But, there are dozens of other glorious stations in the UK and abroad. We will take a journey around some of the most evocative and splendid stations in the world. We will look not only at the magnificence of the architecture and the brilliant engineering but will discover numerous artworks within the stations and examine many depictions of stations in art - like Claude Monet's Gare St.Lazare or William Frith's Paddington.

Ian Swankie is a Londoner with a contagious enthusiasm for art and architecture. He is an official guide at the Tate Modern, Tate Britain, Guildhall of Art Gallery and St.Paul's Cathedral. He is also a freelance London tour guide.

 EWTN News

The Wisdom of St. Francis de Sales

Feast Day Friday 24 January

Be at peace.

Do not look forward in fear to the changes of life; rather look to them with full hope as they arise. God, whose very own you are, will deliver you from out of them.

He has kept you hitherto, and He will lead you safely through all things; and when you cannot stand it, God will bury you in his arms.

Do not fear what may happen tomorrow; the same everlasting Father who cares for you today will take care of you then and every day.

He will either shield you from suffering or give you unfailing strength to bear it.

Be at peace and put aside all anxious thoughts and imagination.

Feast of The Conversion of Saint Paul

Saturday 25 January

When we are struggling to find change in our lives, we could hardly do better than look to the story of Saul, the great persecutor of Christians, who saw the light on the road to Damascus.

The story of the conversion of Saul, from the persecutor of Christians to the zealous and holy instrument of evangelisation, Paul, shows the strength of God's power in our lives, and how he can change anything.

For each of us there is a job to do.

For God, nothing is impossible.
